Year-End Review – Key Employment Trends and Future of Work

With the latest talent development – including the HK Policy Address to be announced in October 2024 and results from the recent KPMG Global Mobility Benchmarking survey, how are the current employment trends shaping the job market? As we are getting close to year-end 2024, HR professionals and employers are looking to review and elevate their HR strategy and way of working.

Let's spend an afternoon exchanging our thoughts to prepare for the next calendar year.
